Update on Brad Collins from Bethany. We will know more after the cardiologist soon, but he's home and doing pretty well. Still vomiting a lot. The doctor put him on medication to help the vomiting so he can keep his antibiotics down, but he's still vomiting every day. The doctor diagnosed him with right-sided heart failure. We will see the cardiologist later today to find out what that means going forward. He'll be seeing a GI specialist to figure out the vomiting issue. Please continue to pray.
